26 A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, Urging Congress, the White House Office of National Drug 27 Control Policy (ONDCP), the United States Department of Justice, and the United States
28 Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) to recognize industrial hemp as a valuable 29 agricultural commodity.

30 WHEREAS, industrial hemp refers to the nondrug oilseed and fiber varieties of cannabis 31 which have less than three-tenths of one percent tetrahydrocannabinol (THC) and which are 32 cultivated exclusively for fiber, stalk, and seed, and are genetically distinct from drug varieties 33 of cannabis, also known as marijuana; and

1 WHEREAS, the flowering tops of industrial hemp cannot produce any drug effect when 2 smoked or ingested; and

3 WHEREAS, Congress never intended to prohibit the production of industrial hemp when 4 restricting the production, possession, and use of marijuana. The legislative history of the 5 Marijuana Tax Act where the current federal definition of marijuana first appeared shows that 6 industrial hemp farmers and manufacturers of industrial hemp products were assuaged by 7 Federal Bureau of Narcotic Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger who promised that the proposed 8 legislation bore no threat to them: "They are not only amply protected under this act, but they 9 can go ahead and raise hemp just as they have always done it"; and

10 WHEREAS, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit ruled in Hemp
11 Industries v. Drug Enforcement Administration, 357 F.3d 1012 (9th Cir. 2004), that the federal 12 Controlled Substances Act of 1970 (21 U.S.C. Sec. 812(b)) explicitly excludes nonpsychoactive 13 industrial hemp from the definition of marijuana, and the federal government declined to appeal 14 that decision; and

15 WHEREAS, the Controlled Substances Act of 1970 specifies the findings to which the 16 government must attest in order to classify a substance as a Schedule I drug and those findings 17 include that the substance has a high potential for abuse, has no accepted medical use, and has 18 a lack of accepted safety for use, none of which apply to industrial hemp; and

19 WHEREAS, Article 28, Section 2, of the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs, 1961, as 20 amended by the 1972 Protocol, states that, "This Convention shall not apply to the cultivation 21 of the cannabis plant exclusively for industrial purposes (fibre and seed) or horticultural 22 purposes."; and

23 WHEREAS, industrial hemp is commercially produced in more than thirty countries, 24 including Canada, Great Britain, France, Germany, Romania, Australia, and China without 25 undue restriction or complications; and

26 WHEREAS, American companies are forced to import millions of dollars worth of hemp 27 seed and fiber products annually from Canada, Europe, and China, thereby effectively denying 28 American farmers an opportunity to compete and share in the profits; and

29 WHEREAS, nutritious hemp foods can be found in grocery stores nationwide and strong 30 durable hemp fibers can be found in the interior parts of millions of American cars; and

31 WHEREAS, buildings are being constructed using a hemp and lime mixture, thereby 32 sequestering carbon; and

33 WHEREAS, retail sales of hemp products for 2012 in this country are estimated to be over 34 $500 million annually; and

35 WHEREAS, industrial hemp is a high-value low-input crop that is not genetically modified, 36 requires little or no pesticides, can be dry land farmed, and uses less fertilizer than wheat and 37 corn; and

1 WHEREAS, the reluctance of the United States Drug Enforcement Administration to permit
2 industrial hemp farming is denying agricultural producers in this country the ability to benefit 3 from a high-value, low-input crop, which can provide significant economic benefits to producers 4 and manufacturers; and

5 WHEREAS, the United States Drug Enforcement Administration has the authority under 6 the Controlled Substances Act to allow this state to regulate industrial hemp farming under 7 existing laws and without requiring individual federal applications and licenses:

8 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the House of Representatives of the Eighty-9 Ninth Legislature of the State of South Dakota, the Senate concurring therein, that the South
10 Dakota Legislature urges the Congress of the United States to recognize industrial hemp as a 11 valuable agricultural commodity, to define industrial hemp in federal law as nonpsychoactive 12 and genetically identifiable species of the genus cannabis, to acknowledge that allowing and 13 encouraging farmers to produce industrial hemp will improve the balance of trade by promoting 14 domestic sources of industrial hemp, and to assist United States producers by removing barriers 15 to state regulation of the commercial production of industrial hemp; and

16 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Legislature also urges the United States Drug 17 Enforcement Administration to allow South Dakota to regulate industrial hemp farming under 18 existing state laws and regulations, or those to be passed, without requiring federal applications, 19 licenses, or fees.
